

Home Town Stuff

As usual in the fall, the crime wave seems to be rising in Vernon. Twenty-nine offenders were picked up during the week-end by "the strong arm of the law." With that many going to jail each week-end, petty law violators are likely to stop and consider before breaking the laws. Sheriff Edmondson says that his force will keep a close look-out this fall.

Quite a crowd gathered yesterday at the intersection of Main and Wilbarger as the first stop signal was being installed on a Vernon street. The crowd jammed the street so much that it was necessary for the traffic officer to move the spectators back to the sidewalk. Anyway, the installation of the traffic signals gave a few of the citizens of Vernon something to think about.

Considerable dissatisfaction is being expressed around town in regard to the raise in the price of admission to the football games which was put into effect last Saturday. Before breaking the calm atmosphere of the city with a few choice expressions in regard to those who are in charge of the local football team, the rate fan should understand that the officials here have been losing money on practically every game. At times, the local club has lost as much as fifty dollars. Naturally, football must be self supporting if it is to exist, for no board of directors is going to furnish money to pay for football games. As a matter of fact, if we are to have football games, we must pay for them.

C. S. McCulloch notes that the Vernon Record is about to blossom forth into a new daily and has the following to say: "I note that you are putting in a daily. Put me down as a charter subscriber, have always wanted to be a charter subscriber to some paper, so that as time rolls by some day I will see this: C. S. McCulloch from the Dog fennel neighborhood, a charter subscriber, is in town today. Get me, Me."

A movement has been started to mark the old Western trail that runs through Vernon. It is planned to place concrete markers at regular intervals across the county. The trail has been made famous by Emerson Hough's great book, "North of 36." The trail passed directly through the city entering near the Central school building and passing out in a north-westerly course to the Doans store, the crossing on Red River. The deep trail made by the thousands of cattle showed up across the county for several years. Herds came together at old Fort Griffin in Shackelford county, from all southwest Texas, to start on the long march to Dodge City, Kans.

Sunday afternoon such crowds of people met the afternoon train that inquiry revealed the fact that for the past few Sundays, farmers have been going to the station to hunt cotton pickers. Car loads pass by and the travelers seem to be singing, "It is better further on." The court house square was full of people that afternoon also, as the farmers tried to secure hands to gather the crop.

There is another entrant in the contest as to who is the real fishing champion for the eastern slope of the Rockies. B. S. Martin is now forward to attract a 64-pound catfish in the Rio Grande River near El Rio in August. It must be a fact, because it was reported in The Record on his return from the trip. Mr. Martin says Bud Daniel and Old Mac are amateurs in the fishing business. Fish the size caught by the latter were used for bait by Mr. Martin, he declares, while the Jew fish, reported to have been caught in the Gulf, by Mr. Daniel, if true, is a feat of seamanship and not a part of the fishing game. Mr. Martin is willing to concede that Mr. Daniel is a good sailor, a good poet, and a good City Commissioner. He is willing to concede that Old Mac is a good mountaineer, a good press agent and a fan companion for novelists like Harold Bell Wright. But in the fine art of landing big fish he claims the supremacy.

TRAIL DRIVERS MONUMENT TO BE IN SAN ANTONIO

The offer of Amarillo of $50,000 to be given toward erecting a monument to the old trail drivers, if the monument was placed in that city was turned down, according to C. F. Doan, who returned Sunday from the annual meeting of the Trail Drivers at San Antonio. As soon as the message was received from Amarillo, by the president George W. Saunders, committees went to work to raise the amount to place the monument in San Antonio. The remainder of the $100,000 was raised in about two hours. Berglund, noted sculptor, who started the work of the Confederate monument on Stone Mountain was present and will likely receive the contract for the Texas monument. It was pointed out that Amarillo has never been on the old trail and San Antonio was the logical place.

LARGE CROWDS ATTEND CHRISTIAN REVIVAL HERE

Large crowds have been attending each service of the revival meeting in spite of the busy time of the year. Four conversions have been reported up to the present. The audience has been delighted with the work of Harry Shields in solos. Many express the belief that he is the best soloist ever brought to Vernon.

PRODUCTION IN LOCAL FIELDS GREATEST EVER

Check on Pipe Line Flow Shows Local Wells Produced Nearly 1000 Barrels Daily More Than Last Week—Roxana Extends Noble Pool South.

Checks on pipe line runs from the Wilbarger County pools show that the fields made the greatest production last week in the history of the field, averaging 11,305 barrels daily, surpassing last week's production, which was considered a record for the field up until that time, by practically 1000 barrels daily.

Operators in the local field point out that the big production figures are coming as a result of the stability of the local sand as well as by increased production. The big wells brought in about two weeks ago are holding up unusually strong, it is reported. Still flowing better than 1200 barrels a day after an initial production of 1700 barrels, with a record of having produced better than 15,000 barrels in little more than a week, the big producer recently brought in by Barkley and Meadows is proclaimed the best well in the South Vernon pool by operators. The company has drilled two north offsets to the well, and are planning to drill No. 3, a west offset to the well, deeper from 2330 to 2350 in the hope of bringing in another big producer. No. 4 is on a good looking sand at 2302 feet, and is preparing to drill in. The big producer encountered sand at 2320 and drilled to 2350 feet.

Roxana Petroleum Company has evidently extended the Noble area about an eighth of a mile to the south. No. 1-A Wagoner located in section 43, block 4, has a hole full of oil and is swabbing about 100 barrels daily from a sand encountered at 1922-1926 feet. It is thought that the well may be drilled deeper before being placed on the pump.

Humble Oil and Refining company completed D-2 during the week-end and it is making about 150 barrels daily from a sand encountered at 2256 feet in section 50, block 14. Operations have been renewed in D-3 after shutting down at 2190 with a strong flow of water. It has been logging with the Noble producer nearby.

Pratt Oil company is drilling at 2000 feet after passing up a good looking line at 1948-1952 feet in section 48, block 2, in strictly wildcat territory.

Road Contracts Are Cancelled in 9 Counties

Frank V. Lanham, chairman of the state highway commission, whose contracts for road building in certain sections of Texas have attracted statewide comment because of charges that the deals were let unfairly, yesterday announced that nine counties had been cancelled. Late today the Camp county maintenance contract, held by Coker and Turner of Marshall at $24,000, was cancelled, running the number of counties to nine, and the amount involved to $121,938.80.

Contracts were cancelled in Hardeman, Foard, Velverde, Knox and Foard yesterday.

Recommendations of county officials and other citizens, as well as of district engineers, were followed by the highway commission in cancelling the contracts, Mr. Lanham said.

It was learned today that contracts for LaSalle, Frio, Webb and Zapata counties were cancelled some time ago; but first announcement was made today by the commission.

The contracts were canceled, it was explained, because interested citizens, officials and highway employees convinced the commission that this action was necessary to protect the interests of the people of those nine counties, Chairman Lanham said.

Provision has been made in each county to carry on maintenance under direction of district superintendents. These superintendents will place the highways in good condition, and bond holders for the various contractors will be called on to meet any cost above the figure named for each county in the cancelled contracts, the chairman declared.

In addition to Coker and Turner, who have been cancelled, Neyland Smith company of San Antonio, Velverde county, $24,440; M. M. Robinson company of Laredo; Webb county, $24,720; Zapata, $14,000; Frio, $9,588.88; and LaSalle, $7,200; R. B. Stroup of Wichita Falls, Hardeman county, $6,000; Knox, $13,300; and Foard, $8,150.

FIRE DESTROYS KELL ELEVATOR AT OKLAUNION

Elevator Is Discovered a Mass of Flames Near Midnight—Flames Damage Several Bales of Cotton Nearby—Fire Was Set, It Is Thought.

Flames completely destroyed the Kell Mill elevator at Oklaunion, burned one box car, seriously damaged another, and did more or less damage to seventy-five bales of cotton in a yard nearby Sunday night, starting about 11:30 o'clock, and raging for almost two hours before it finally burned itself out.

The total damage was estimated at near $5,000. Frank Kell of Wichita Falls, owner of the grain elevator, said the property was covered by insurance and that the elevator itself was worth approximately $3,500.

General opinion at Oklaunion seems to favor the idea that the fire was of incendiary origin. The flames broke out in the top of the elevator and spread so rapidly that it was thought the top of the building had been saturated with kerosene. The fire was beyond control by the time it was discovered.

A chemical truck was rushed to the scene of the fire from Vernon, but arrived there too late to be of assistance in extinguishing the flames in the elevator, as it had burned almost to the ground by that time. A freight train passed, and weekly mail putting out the flames that were destroying the box cars.

Sparks from the burning elevator were constantly flying into a nearby cotton yard where about three hundred bales of cotton were stored. It was necessary to keep a close look-out, and men with water buckets quickly extinguished the sparks. The cotton was damp, and burned slowly. Although between seventy-five and a hundred bales were ignited, estimates place the total loss within a thousand pounds.

About a month ago, fires broke out in the Kell elevator and the Wichita Elevator at the same time, and when they were extinguished it was found that one had been saturated with kerosene. No arrests were made at that time.

Vernon Rotarian Principal Speaker at Wichita Falls

R. H. Smith of this city was the principal speaker at the weekly meeting of the Rotary club of Wichita Falls at the Kemp Hotel last Thursday. Mr. Smith's address, "When is a man a Rotarian," was well received and his humor, sandwiched in between the lines, kept the large crowd in an uproar, according to announcements from Wichita Falls.

Mr. Smith stated that men show symptoms of being Rotarians just as patients show symptoms of illness. He stated, clear mind, and a clear eye. "The trouble with the world is that we see too many small differences in our fellowmen," said Mr. Smith. An open ear, one that hears the better things in life, was another symptom described by the speaker, as was a clean tongue. "The most dangerous man in the community is one that repeats idle gossip," went on the speaker, "and eleven out of ten the gossip is grossly unfounded."

COMES TO CITY A TOURIST PURCHASES PROPERTY HERE

F. J. Terry of Dallas recently purchased the Blue Bird Inn, located on the Colorado to the Gulf Highway west of town. His purchase of the Blue Bird Inn came as a result of his realization of the rapid strides which Vernon is making, he says. He came to Vernon a tourist, with the avowed intention of staying here only one night. While looking around that night after he had camped at the Vaughn camp ground, he became impressed with the future prospects of this city, and seeing what appeared to him to be a good opportunity, he purchased the Inn. Mr. Terry has returned to Dallas for a few days, and will soon return here where the family will make their home.

TRAFFIC STOP SIGNALS BEING INSTALLED NOW

Motorists Will Be Given This Week To Become Acquainted With New Traffic System—Law Will Become Effective Next Week.

Traffic signals have been received here, and the installation work is now in progress. Signs forbidding left hand turns have been placed at several street intersections, and will be placed at others. At the regular meeting of the City Commission this afternoon, ordinances forbidding the left hand turns will be discussed, and it is practically certain that they will be passed, according to city secretary, S. H. Hall.

No arrests will be made for failure to observe the stop signals this week, according to Police Chief W. W. Gilbert, but officers will be stationed at the street intersections where stop signals are located, and anyone passing up the signals will be forced to back up to the traffic line running across from the signal and come to a full stop. If one fails to back up, it will mean a trip to the mayor's office for the conference that is always one-sided, the police chief says.

Two stop signals have been placed at the intersection of Main and Wilbarger streets, and the motorist going east on Wilbarger must come to a stop, as must one going north on Main. The same is true at Main and Peace, where two stop signals have been placed. The same holds good for Texas and Peace, where two signals have been placed. One signal has been placed at the intersection of Wilbarger and Cumberland, and traffic going west on Cumberland must come to a halt at that intersection. At Cumberland and Peace, traffic going south on Peace must stop. At Texas and Fannin, traffic going north on Fannin must come to a standstill before crossing or turning into Texas. Another signal is located at Main and Paradise, and traffic going east on Paradise must halt, before proceeding into or across Main.

The city has one signal to place yet, and it has not been decided where this one will be located. Three signs forbidding left hand turns have been installed, one at Wilbarger and Main, one at Peace and Main, and one at Texas and Main. It is likely that no left hand turns will be allowed on Main between Wilbarger and Wanderer streets.

Chief of Police Gilbert says that no excuses will be accepted for failing to see the stop signals. Made in the shape of a large turtle, the signals are easily noticeable. A red reflector, reflects a car's light at night as though there were a light in the signal itself.

No fines will be assessed this week. Chief Gilbert says, but the law will be binding next Monday morning. Fines for the first offense will be $2, and this will be doubled each time on all following offenses.

At the meeting of the city commission this afternoon, slow zones for the schools will be discussed, and ordinances forcing traffic to slow down near schools will likely be passed, it is stated.

Quanah May Still Be In Class A of Scholastic Age

Quanah will play Vernon High next Saturday, but it has not been definitely settled yet whether Quanah will be in Class A, according to a statement of Coach Barnette of Quanah High to the Record this morning. The Quanah Mentor says that Roy B. Henderson, secretary of the Inter-scholastic League, has given Quanah the right to enter either class.

Mr. Henderson made his decision after a check of the Quanah High school roll showed that only 307 were required to place class A school. The league requires that class A school have an enrollment of 350. However, Quanah High's enrollment last year totaled 352, and this caused Quanah to be rated as a class A school.

Quanah is now waiting for another message in regard to the results of their defeat at the hands of Burk Burnett, and its effect on their standing in class B, should they enter that class. If the game is to have any bearing on the standing of the team, Quanah will remain in Class A, the Quanah mentor says.

Should Quanah by any chance defeat Vernon, it appears that Quanah would be a class A team, and Vernon officials are regarding the team in that view.

Man O' War To Be Featured in New Pictorium Picture

The world's greatest thoroughbred makes his motion picture debut in "Kentucky Pride," the William Fox supreme attraction which opens to-morrow at the Pictorium Theatre. The mighty Man o' War has turned down many a tempting offer to show his paces on the screen. Needless to say it was never a matter of money. He makes this, his last as well as his first appearance, just to oblige a lady thereby living up to his reputation as the first gentleman of the turf.

Virginia's Future is the lady in the case. She is also the star performer in "Kentucky Pride," which is simply the story of her eventful life as told by herself.

Naturally the principal characters in her autobiography are horses. They include such champions as Negofol, father of Virginia's Future, and the great Morvich, her first husband, who is Man o' War's neighbor and friend; also Fair Play, Man o' War's father, and the Finn, an old family friend. Some humans are unavoidably used in the accessory roles including among others Henry B. Wallhall, Macdonald and Gertrude Astor, John Ford, maker of the "Iron Horse," is the director.

Man o' War was not averse to being photographed, once he took the plunge and had been assured that Mr. Samuel D. Biddle, his owner, and Miss Elizabeth Danegrove, his caretaker, would not disapprove. He has no prejudice against cameras, as such. In fact he is always ready to pose for a friendly snapshot by visitors to Farmway Farm, his Kentucky residence. Miss Danegrove says that if the grand horse has a fault, it is a certain "lovable vanity," that leads him to strike his grandest pose and hold it till he hears the click of the camera.

"The Unholy Three," a crook drama directed by Tod Browning for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer and now being featured at the Pictorium theatre for the last day, can only be described as one of the best pictures of this class the screen has ever known. Browning has succeeded in injecting a large amount of heart interest into the film and has left out the old bromide situation about mortgages, snow storms and villains who claim the beautiful young heroine in lieu of certain amounts of money owed by the poor parents.

He has filmed the adventures of a trio of museum freaks who unite as a criminal band called "The Unholy Three." There is a fourth member but she becomes the heroine in the early part of the picture and fades out in the arms of an innocent lover who has been framed by her erstwhile friends.

The picture is not lacking in comedy and it is interpreted by an all-star cast that has used every opportunity to a good advantage.

French Beauty and English Actor in Gripping Play

The Paramount screen version of Anzia Yezierska's colorful novel of New York's East Side, "Salome of the Tenements," which created such a stir in the literary world, when it first put in its appearance, opens a 2 days' run at the Vernon Theatre Wednesday and Thursday.

Miss Jerri Goudin has the role of Sonya Salome of the New York tenements, capricious, impulsive daughter of the lower East Side, whose craving for beauty leads to a romance and marriage with a millionaire pianist.

Therapist, Manning, played by Teadie the English actor who makes his American screen debut in this picture. Mr. Teadie came to the United States to play the leading role in "The Palace," a most successful Broadway play.

Born amidst the most miserable surroundings in New York's ghetto, Sonya grows up to be an exquisitely beautiful girl constantly struggling against poverty, ugliness and despair. As a reporter on a Yiddish newspaper, she meets Manning who has founded a settlement house and is devoting all his energies to warding off the misery and distress of the district.

A deep dramatic note is struck when Manning invites Salome's neighbors and relations to a house party in celebration of the engagement. All of Manning's aristocratic friends are present, and for the first time Sa-

Lion Rears

In the game last Friday, the local riders for the first time showed the making of district championship football team. They have been winning over weak college teams; it is now their own plays were made, with no team work, no interference. However, in last Friday's game he regularly worked as a unit. The team looked 100 per cent better. In fact, it was the first time the Lions showed a team.

Vernon may win over a few of the other teams of the district by the sheer drive method of that backfield, but the team cannot hope to go far in the championship race without interference and team work for the Lions will come a time the locals will be a team with as good a backfield, and with more interference and team work, without the locals continue to improve as they did during last week. However, if the team continues to improve in the future as it did in the past week, the outlook in the league race should be bright.

The work of the Vernon reserves in the game with Devoal considerably lightened the local club's outlook in the league championship drive. Vernon's reserve strength has been a question mark for some time, and Friday's game gave the team a line on the reserve strength, and the showing made was favorable.

Castleberry especially showed to good form in the second string's game with Devoal. This ad appeared to be about the fastest thing in motion since he has recently been seen around Vernon. Of course he was playing against a weak team, but no team can down a man they can't catch, and Castleberry appeared to have speed enough to make him a valuable asset to the regular string. Even with the sp of backs that Baggett has now, Castleberry displayed a stiff arm Friday that would have been a credit to a veteran. Several times he drove would-be tacklers to the ground by casually placing the head of his hand firmly against the point of their chin. His work in this phase of the game looked good, especially since staff-arming seems to be a lost art, so far as the Lions are concerned.

With a little more experience and confidence, Castleberry should be a strong contender for a first string position. However, the lad had a shoulder thrown out of place in the last down in Friday's game, and it may give him considerable trouble during the remainder of this season. It is certain to keep him out of the games for awhile.

Heyhurst also looked good in the second string's backfield. Friday, however, he is certainly this year because of the one year ruling. He should be a dependable back on the 1926 eleven. It is hard to tell just why Heyhurst had the success he did

Friday. He appeared to get away slow, but he always found a hole. He gained on practically every play.

Newth is another second string back that made a good showing Saturday. This youngster, green at the game, has a way of throwing off tacklers after they had caught him that was pleasing to watch.

Up at Amarillo it seems to have been settled that Vernon is the champion of this end of the district. The following appeared on the sport page of a recent issue of an Amarillo paper:

"Will Amarillo or Plainview oppose Vernon for Class A football championship here this year? That will be settled next Friday. You can rest assured one of the teams will and that Vernon has the odds to win. A bold forecast, but watch the dope."

Perhaps the Amarillo sport scribe is right. Maybe the news has been a little slow in coming to us. However, while we are waiting for the glad tidings, it might be advisable to play a little hard football, for Wichita Falls is still down the railroad a ways.

LION RESERVES DEFEAT DEVOL

BAGGETT'S SECOND STRING RUNS ROUGH SHOD OVER OKLAHOMANS.

The Lion reserve squad smashed through Devol eleven Friday afternoon with ease, defeating the visitors 41-0. It was a one-sided game from the start, the Oklahoma gridders never had the ball in Vernon's territory.

In the game, the Lion reserve showed more strength than they were accredited with, plunging down the field with the pugnacity of regulars. Three men in particular stood out: Heyhurst, Castleberry, and Newth.

ran wild in the Vernon backfield. Heyhurst never made any long gains to speak of, but he was constantly adding from five to ten yards on his slow drives off tackle. Castleberry made some sensational runs recently seen on this gridiron, one of which scored a touchdown after a 45-yard sprint. In this run, Castleberry had no interference, but was stiff-arming his way through a broken field with the ease and confidence of a veteran. Newth's ability seemed to stand out in throwing off tackles. It often took two or three men to down him.

Newth carried the ball within striking distance for Vernon's first score by an 18-yard run around right end, then plunged it over for a touchdown after Heyhurst and Key had made short gains through the line. The next touchdown was made after a magnificent plunging march down the field, a series of bucks carrying the ball from Vernon's 40 yard line for a touchdown, Heyhurst going over for the score. C. Key placed the ball on Devol's 15-yard line short-

COLONEL MITCHELL ON TOP

Every indication in the air service controversy precipitated by Colonel William Mitchell points to a victory for the suggestion he has made for the improvement and coordination of our whole defense program. Distinguished air service officers and even some regular army officers have given their endorsement of the plans Colonel Mitchell has outlined.

The chairman of the House appropriation committee has given still further emphasis to the demands of the stormy petrel of the air service by denouncing the extravagance and incompetence of non-flying officers in handling the affairs of the air service. He even supports the suggestion that our whole army and navy affairs be centralized in a department of national defense, with one Secretary and four sub-secretaries in charge of the four branches of the national defense.

This would simplify administration, reduce expense and eliminate the ridiculous jealousy between the army and navy and the various branches of these two services. Most important of all it would place the air service under unified control with experienced airmen in charge.

The average laymen does not, of course, understand all the intricacies of national defense administration, but the contentions of Colonel Mitchell have withstood the combined attacks of the higher-ups remarkably well. No doubt he was guilty of some exaggeration in his appraisal of conditions. Perhaps he did not show proper respect toward his superior officers. He was at times a little harsh in the terms he applied to those who are responsible for the national defense administration. But sometimes an iconoclast is necessary in order that popular interest can be aroused. Colonel Mitchell was too well versed in the traditions and red tape of army affairs not to know that if he accomplished anything he must arouse public opinion. Recommendations made in the regular way are too easily pigeon-holed.

So in fairness to Colonel Mitchell we may excuse his apparent excesses on the score that he felt that the end sought justified the means employed to attain it. Undoubtedly he will do the country a real service. His program in full will probably not be adopted. But he has at least directed attention to a condition that will be remedied to some extent as the result of his charges.

Meantime the court martial proceedings against him have been hurried. He occupies a strategic position. With public opinion behind him, as it unquestionably is the bureaucrats hesitate to administer the punishment that would humiliate him. They are perhaps hoping that public interest will subside in a short time so they can safely discipline him without still further stirring up the people. But the Colonel is too shrewd for that. He proposes to hold the advantage he enjoys.

THE LANGUAGE THEY UNDERSTAND

Interest Growing In Small Library Says Librarian

The traveling library system begun in 1915, is very popular, according to Miss Lillian Newton, local librarian.

At the request of the Texas Federation of Women's clubs, the system was made and books donated by the clubs formed the nucleus of the system. According to the local lady, though no traveling libraries have been received in this county through the Texas State library shipments of books have been sent out from the Vernon library to Oklahoma, Odell, Wilcox, Tolbert, Lockett and Northwest Community House.

One reason that the traveling library is not generally used in the county, is due Miss Newton states, to the fact that Vernon is a trade center and people from all neighborhoods come here and select their own books.

The following is a recent report of the circulation of the libraries by Miss Wilson of the state library:

There are now thirty-five libraries in circulation with six new ones to be added soon. During the last fiscal year 61 libraries were sent out. This is equivalent to the circulation of 3050 books. Libraries were sent to 50 counties, 21 counties in which there had never been traveling libraries.

Forty-four new applications were received. Thirty-eight libraries were kept in schools; 5 in residences, one each in Red Cross headquarters, chamber of commerce, community center building, bank, public library building, court house and postoffice.

Since the inauguration of the traveling library system one community has had 21 libraries, making a total of 1,050 books; another 11 libraries, totaling 350 books; and a third, 9 libraries, totaling 450 books. Each library is made up of 50 books of general interest to an entire

The brook is singing merrily

While journeying to the seas.

Amid it all, the rose perfume

Upon the mountain side.

Local Missionary in China Writes to Vernon Friends

The following letter, from Miss Blanche Groves, who is doing Foreign Missionary work in Soochow, China, was received by the Woman's Alliance of the First Baptist Church of Vernon. Miss Groves was sent to China by the local Baptist church, and is doing a splendid work. The letter was written on September 9, and is as follows:

"This delay in writing you is really unpardonable even though there have been some reasons for it. Yet I do not excuse myself at all for not having sent you a few words with a promise of the letter I've waited until now to write.

"Formerly I planned to go home on special furlough this year. I came out with an understanding that I would return in five years for some special work and study. But the indebtedness of the Board, the condition of our work, and the change in the first term of Service from seven to six years, made me realize that the best thing to do would be to stay on another year and really, now as I think of the things I want to accomplish in my special phase of work before my furlough time, I don't see how I am going to be ready for a furlough one year hence. But of course when I think of the 'other' side of the Pacific I can hardly wait for the time to come to sail toward 'Home Sweet Home.'

"I presume you have read in the papers of the happenings in this country, China, during recent months. Conditions have been deplorable but the atmosphere is clearing again. The situation has been rather serious and complex because of the inter-national relationships mixed up in the affair. For a number of days it was most critical and foreigners were advised to stay off the streets as much as possible. This we did, except when the demands of our work necessitated our going out. And when we did the cry 'Kill the foreigners,' filled the air. I heard statements about foreigners, Christianity, and Christ until it seemed my heart would break. I have never in my life felt so much the need of the Spirit that Christ had on the Cross when He said, 'Father, forgive them for they know not what they do.'

"The Anti-Christian movement that had already been launched mixed with the Anti-Foreign feeling that was stirred up in connection with the killing of the students by Shanghai policemen on May 30, certainly was confusing to the uneducated masses of China. But, of course, our hope during these days of uncertainty and wondering was the fact that Christ's power is stronger than Satan's. We will finally triumph. We see this all settling, but not settled.

"The $300.00 that came in the midst of the turmoil was laid aside at the time since we had no idea if we would be here at this time or on our way home. Times were so uncertain and our plans all laid on the table.

"But thanks to our Heavenly Father, we are re-opening schools with a fair attendance and reorganizing our work for the coming year. And I have found such a big use for the money you sent, I want you to get joy out of knowing how it is going into the work. The boy that I have been helping for several years I wrote you about, graduated one year ago and is teaching his second term and expects to return some of the money at least and has returned $5.00 already. This money I expect to turn into other students as it comes in. The other boy I've helped in college has a brother now able to help him. But a thing I need in my work very much is one or more Bible women. I wish I could have three or four and a supply of cheap Bibles that we can use in the various Bible classes where people are too poor to buy Bibles. The Church is going to pay one Bible woman to work with me and I am going to take your money and put into Bibles that we can lend to people and classes. I'll work out a circulating reading system of some kind or order for the Bibles to be used by different groups. As they become interested in the Bible they usually find some way to buy one of their own. We often give Bibles away too, when we can. So as these Bibles go out to various classes may they be followed with your prayers for 'The Word' is power wherever read or preached.

"I am thrilled over the talk of a new church in Vernon which means you have outgrown the other one. Is Brother Mimms still pastor?

"What a joy it will be to see all of you again.

"I am always so glad to receive letters from any of you so do write.

"Again thanking you for your love gift in money and reuniting your prayers for myself, and co-workers, and work, I love you devotedly.

"Yours in Christ's service,
"BLANCHE GROVES."

Quanah Gridders Reported To Be Light But Speedy

When the Vernon Lions meet Quanah next Saturday afternoon the local gridders will get their first test on foreign soil. Heretofore, the local club has been playing all of its games on the home gridiron, with the majority of the spectators rooting for them, and unless a large delegation of local fans go to Quanah the team is likely to feel the difference.

On paper, Vernon appears to have a much stronger team than Quanah. However, paper doesn't win the game. Quanah and Paducah were doped to stage a hot contest for Class B honors, and Quanah ran roughshod over the Paducah club for a 31-0 win.

Coach Barnette appears to have a light but fast team. This will be a new combination for the local club. In the early season games they have been playing college teams much heavier than themselves. Against the Paducah club, Coach Barnette's backfield ran wild and he pulled the entire combination.

It is said that Quanah has a powerful little line, with a fighting demon at center. Barnette is supposed to have a discovery in Edwards at this place. If this is true, fans are likely to see a whale of a battle between centers, as Vernon has yet to see the man that can beat Robinson within his weight.

Misses Jessie and Minnie Milner spent the week-end in Dallas where they attended the State Fair.

U. S. Davis, of the firm of Davis, Webb & Company, will leave in company with a number of others, on October 18, to visit and inspect the "Winter Garden Farms."

Lions Crush Powerful Sayre Team Here Saturday 33 to 6; Breaks Play Important Part in Locals' Victory

Playing by far the best football displayed on the local gridiron this year, the Vernon Lions defeated Sayre, Okla., here Saturday afternoon 33-6. The locals worked together like a veteran team. Although breaks played a great part in the victory, the visitors never threatened the Lions until after the team had been weakened by a number of substitutions.

The score, however, is not a fair indication of the strength of the two teams, as Miller fumbled for the visitors practically every time he had his hands on the ball, and the Key brothers, with three of them in the line-up most of the time, recovered for Vernon on practically every fumble. C. Key accounted for two of his team's touchdowns by covering Miller's fumbles, one behind the goal line, and one almost in mid-field, following it with a long run for a touchdown.

Benton Ryan brought the fans to their feet when he received a punt on his 48-yard line and raced through a broken field for a touchdown. However, it was not Ryan's broken-field running alone that was responsible for that wonderful run. The Lions were blocking fast and hard. Only one man touched Ryan during the 52-yard dash. Ryan made several other sensational plays that made him the outstanding player of the day.

McAnery, calling signals from the left half position, started for the visitors. He turned in as much as three yards on every play he made with one exception. However, little praise can be given him on his generalship. He elected to carry the ball himself practically all the time, and hardly used two of his backs at all. The Lions displayed a stronger defense against aerial attacks than they have shown in the early games. Although the visitors attempted ten forward passes during the contest, none were completed. That they failed was due to the work of the Lions, for McAnery was tossing straight with a good distance on every pass. The Lions attempted the aerial route a number of times, completing one, and having one intercepted. However, several were completed only to be called back by the referee because of players being offside. The Lions intercepted three of the visitors' tosses. Vernon plunged through for ten first downs, while the visitors made two.

Sayre had the hardest tackling team displayed on the local field this year, and Vernon's victory was costly, as a number of players were injured. Crouch was assisted from the field with a wrenched knee. Robinson, and Norwood were slightly injured during the fray.

Cemetery Notice

Hereafter all lots and the charge for digging graves must be paid for when burial permits are taken out. All charges must be paid to S. H. Hall, City Secretary, from whom permits must be secured.

Many lots that have been purchased in the past have not been paid and these will be re-sold unless purchasers call at the City Hall at once and pay the amounts due.

This is important. The only funds available for keeping up the Cemetery come from sale of lots and voluntary contributions and we must insist that lots be paid for when purchased and grave digging charges paid when permits are secured from Mr. Hall.
